Ambon – Nusa Laut – Banda Islands

We start our adventure in Ambon Bay. Ambon is a world-class muck diving destination. Inside the bay, there are numerous dive sites full of critters galore! The holy grail of fish, rhinopias, can be seen here along with frogfish, ghost pipefish, nudibranchs, leaf fish, zebra crabs, cuttlefish, all sorts of pipefish, mandarin fish, ribbon eels, other sorts of eels and cute juveniles like the barramundi cod, batfish and harlequin sweetlips. Our dive guides will be looking out for different types of shrimps such as bumblebee, harlequin, tiger and coleman shrimps. In the octopus family, we might see the very special wunderpus or mimic octopus. At night, coconut, starry night, white-V and long arm octopus come out to hunt. An excellent way to start a trip!

After muck diving in Ambon Bay, we head to Nusa Laut. Nusa Laut is a small island close to Ambon, and the village here protects the fantastic dive site of Amet Reef. Eagle rays, a huge school of jacks, hammerhead sharks and even a Dugong have all been seen here. The reef is very healthy, and it is common to see bumphead parrotfish feeding in the shallows. The afternoon and night dive will be around the neighbouring island of Mamala. After the fourth dive, we start crossing to the Banda Islands.

Banda Islands

On the first day in the Banda Islands, we do two dives on the remote island of Suanggi, where we will try our luck to spot some hammerhead sharks. After the second dive, we cruise to the central part of the Banda Islands, where we'll do an afternoon and a night dive.

At the Banda Islands, also known as the Spice Islands, the land excursion is fascinating. The next morning, we visit the museum, an old Dutch fort and a nutmeg plantation to learn about the incredible history of these remote islands.

The diving around Banda includes the typical deep walls of the Banda Sea, as well as sea mounts and drift dives along fish-packed reefs. At Batu Kapal, the entire pinnacle is covered with schools of pyramid butterfly fish and red-tooth triggerfish, intermingling with countless fusiliers, forming a vibrant spectacle of colours. Lava Flow is the name of the dive site at the foot of the iconic volcano of the Banda Islands. The pristine hard coral garden has been growing since the last eruption in 1988. Directly in front of the village Banda Neira, we will look for the spectacular mandarin fish on a sunset dive. There are also lots of beautiful critters to see, like colourful nudibranchs, different kinds of scorpionfish, and there might be even a frogfish around.

Around the islands of Hatta and Ai are many dive sites with beautiful hard coral gardens, turtles, napoleon wrasses and bumphead parrotfish. Because of the very deep water around these islands, you have good chances to see some bigger pelagics like dogtooth tuna, grey reef shark and maybe even a hammerhead shark.

Banda Islands – Pulau Koon – Misool

It's a long crossing through the Banda Sea to the eastern tip of Seram Island, where Pulau Koon is. This is why on our last day of diving around the Banda Island, we will do three dives. After the afternoon dive, we start heading north.

The dive site at Pulau Koon is called Too Many Fish, which is all the explanation you need! Large groupers hang out on the deep walls, and there are large schools of jacks and snappers. Reef sharks and big schools of batfish have been seen here. We will do two dives before we cruise further north to Misool.

Misool (Raja Ampat)

Raja Ampat is right in the heart of the Coral Triangle and has over 1,500 islands. Many scientists believe Raja Ampat has the most coral and fish diversity in the world! Raja means King and Ampat means Four – Four Kings. The four kings are the main islands in Raja Ampat – Waigeo, Batanta, Salawati and Misool.

Misool's small surrounding islands are a soft-coral paradise and a famous part of Raja Ampat. With its abundance of stunning dive sites and the natural beauty of karst limestone and jungle-clad islands, this area invites us to linger for a couple, or depending on the trip length, even several days.

Misool can be divided into many areas, where we can spend the whole day at a selection of amazing dive sites. Daram is in the very east of these islands and has inviting names such as Candy Store, Andi-amo and Warna Berwarna (meaning Colourful Colour!). The sea fan forests here have to be seen to be believed!

In the iconic areas of Boo, Fiabecet and Yuliet, we may look through the iconic Boo Windows, with tonnes of fish surrounding us. We might explore fabulous dive sites like Shadow Reef (aka Magic Mountain), Nudibranch Rock, Batu Kecil, Whale Rock, Boo West Corner and Yuliet Kecil. And if we are lucky, we see the majestic giant and/or reef manta rays around here. Admire large coral heads covered in soft corals, maybe spotting the famous Santa Claus pygmy seahorse, while schools of barracudas and batfish might pass by. Our eagle-eyed dive masters will look for the endemic walking shark (epaulette shark) on a night dive at Romeo or Yuliet Besar.

The areas of Sagof, Wagnab and Farondi offer us stunning underwater walls, overhangs and cave structures, plus amazing macro life, such as nudibranchs, flatworms, anemone crabs and all kinds of shrimps. In this area, we might visit the wonderful lagoons. These amazing geological structures come in iconic bee-hive-shaped karst limestone formations and hard-coral colonies at their base. If the tide is high enough, our crew will take you to the secret bay right at the back!

There are also lagoons at Wayilbatan, one of them is the Love Lagoon. If we visit this lagoon, we will do three dives on that day. The hike up the steep stairs is well worth the view – a blue heart shape. A drift dive through a channel covered in sea fans at Neptune Fan Sea is the perfect place to cool off after the hot walk. Wedding Cake and Barracuda Rock are other stunning dive sites in this area.

Misool – Fam Islands – Dampier Strait

On the last day of diving in Misool, we will do two dives before travelling to Penemu. Famous Melissa's Garden awaits us with its spectacular, healthy, and wide-spread hard coral plateau, completely covered in colourful anthias and damsel fish. At Keruo Wall, we can admire large gorgonian sea fans and lovely reef tops. A short hike to Penemu viewpoint offers a spectacular view of the lagoons and its surrounding islands. To cool off, we'll do a late afternoon dive at Batu Rufus.

The remainder of our adventure will be spent diving in the famous Dampier Strait. Our last diving day will offer two more action-packed dives in Central Raja Ampat, before we start travelling back to Sorong harbour, where we will spend the last evening and enjoy a special farewell dinner. The next morning, our tenders will take you back ashore to catch your flights.
